

As a truck driver I have come to depend on this very valuable service that only XM can offer.
I'm never in one place long enough to determine which local signal to access for the same information.

That is the beauty of satellite radio.